Why You Need ACTIVE VIOLENCE RESPONSE TRAINING

We've all heard countless news stories about active shooter situations throughout the U.S. Most incidents occur quickly, and sometimes there are warning signs that have been missed. The AVIRT course trains individuals in your organization to look for warning signs, react fast in life-threatening situations, and safely minimize the impact of an occurrence with emergency bleeding control basics.

With AVIRT training, you'll learn the important basics of life-saving techniques developed by law enforcement experts and medical professionals. AVIRT will empower your team to feel confident to react in emergency situations and act as immediate responders if necessary.

After an AVIRT training session, your team can:

Understand active shooter response procedures

Escape, evade or attack in the critical seconds during an event

Recognize warning signs of a potential aggressor

Apply critical bleeding control techniques to help save lives

Respond quickly in a violent or emergency situation

Gain the confidence needed to respond

Training TO BUILD CONFIDENCE

The AVIRT program is delivered in either a traditional classroom or “blended” training format. Blended means students will first receive an online class with all the core knowledge content and interactive student exercises. The online portion of the training prepares students for the next part of the training—the in-person instructor-led session with hands-on skills practice.

Class sizes are limited to 15 people or less per instructor so that all participants will leave the AVIRT program with the confidence to respond with appropriate action if an active violence or life-threatening situation arises.

Unlike other training programs that focus solely on Run, Hide, Fight techniques, AVIRT uses dynamic methods to teach you proactive awareness, how to react and protect yourself and others in a violent situation, and how to respond to severe injuries that are often a result of these occurrences.

Blended Learning
Course Length = About 1.5
hours online plus 1 hour
in-person

Traditional Classroom
Course Length = About 2.5
hours in-person

Train your ORGANIZATION

All types of organizations and events need emergency training. According to FBI data, most active violence events are planned and last less than 15 minutes. This means your employees or team may serve as immediate responders in a situation, and they need the skills to react fast and appropriately.

To protect employees and maintain a safe workplace for all, businesses and institutions must have:

Active Shooter
Response Procedures

CPR & First Aid Training

Bleeding Control Training and TAC+PAC kits

AED Management Program

AVIRT certification is valid for two years. We recommend training staff every two years or as often as needed and maintaining a workplace violence program as required by OSHA [section 32.0.2(1)]. Clear policies and procedures should be reviewed and updated annually.

We certainly hope you never have to put this training into action, but our goal is to empower you and your team with knowledge and a plan in case active violence or life-threatening emergencies happen.

Why Our Customers RECOMMEND AVIRT

After spending over 17 years in law enforcement and now almost 18 years in the Sports and Entertainment venue security field, I have been through numerous training days and training sessions. I am proud to say—and I believe I speak for all the AEG Team in attendance—we were 100% impressed and satisfied with the course, the format, and the training we received. AVIRT was by far one of the best training programs I have ever attended.

Barry R. Stanford, CPP®, CSSP – Senior Director of Security Operations and Intelligence, AEG Worldwide

The AVIRT course was well organized, relevant and provided a lot of hands on experience. It gave us confidence and helped to prepare us for our responsibilities. I would highly recommend the AVIRT program to anyone seeking solid training from instructors with real world experience.

Jason Porter – Safety & Security Director, Woodside Bible Church

Great presentation! I am 66 years old, and it made me feel competent and confident that I could participate in preventing a violent situation and able to help others until help arrives. The program is empowering and motivational.

Mary Richardson – Practice Manager, Cornerstone Medical Group

Allied Universal utilized the AVIRT program which includes emergency bleeding training. I was very impressed with the level of knowledge and professionalism that the trainers provided, and I recommend this training for all those involved in public and private policing or security.

David P. Chase – Regional Training and Safety Director, Allied Universal

Thank you for equipping our first responders with the knowledge and resources needed to do the best job we can for those we serve.
